INSPECTIONS

The Department requires Company Certified inspections. Each company is required to list designated company inspectors who will perform individual unit inspections and attest to the accuracy of each inspection. The Department will continue to perform random, unannounced inspections of vehicles, and expects that strict compliance with the requirements will be maintained at all times. Units found to be deficient upon inspection are subject to administrative penalties.

All vehicles must be in compliance when the application is submitted, and must be maintained throughout the permit period. This includes the U.S. D.O.T. requirements for cargo tanker annual inspections as specified in 49 CFR 180.352 and the annual safety inspection as specified in the Motor Carrier Safety Regulations, Part 393. Vehicles must have the proper markings and stickers to verify these requirements.

APPLICATION/INSPECTION FEES

A fee of $100.00 (made payable to the General Treasurer State of Rhode Island) must be submitted to the Office of Management Services, per the attached remittal form, at the time the application is submitted. This will be credited to the cost of one single unit. You must also submit $100 for each additional unit to be permitted. No stickers will be issued until payment is received.

Upon approval of a company's application, stickers will be issued for the specific units for which a checklist and a $100 per unit fee have been submitted. (Note: the cost to have one tractor permitted is $100 and the cost of one trailer inspected is $100). These stickers are NOT TRANSFERRABLE and are to be placed on the driver's side of the permitted unit [stickers on tractors should be placed on the driver's door, stickers on trailers should be placed on the front (driver's side) of the unit. Note that both the tractor and trailer must maintain current stickers.]

In order to accommodate infrequent transporters of hazardous waste, the Department has amended its fee structure to allow for the issuance of a temporary (30) day permit. The fee for this permit is $25/vehicle unit. If done online, the fee is $30/unit.

All additional unit fees and checklist should be applied for online at www.ri.gov/DEM/hwtransport.

CONTINGENCY PLANS

An approved contingency plan must be on each vehicle at all times. D.O.T. Hazardous Materials handbooks are not acceptable as the only emergency procedures on the vehicle. Contingency plans must be updated at least every 5 years.

TEMPORARY STORAGE/TRANSFER ACTIVITIES

All temporary storage and/or transfer activities of hazardous waste conducted by the transporter within the state of Rhode Island require a Letter of Authorization by the Department (Please refer to item #10 of the permit application). The maximum period of temporary storage allowed in this state is 72 hours. Anyone requesting a Letter of Authorization for an existing or new activity must do so in writing, under separate cover, and submit it with the application. Letters of Authorization are issued on a yearly basis and expire on 30 June. Operation of a temporary storage and/or transfer station without a current Letter of Authorization is a violation, and administrative and/or criminal actions may be taken.
BUSINESS CONCERN DISCLOSURE STATEMENT

In accordance with Rhode Island General Law 23-19.1-18.3, a Business Concern Disclosure Statement must be completed and returned with the initial application. For subsequent applications you may submit a Business Concern Disclosure Change Certification. Failure to submit this document will result in the delay of processing your application until the document is received. Business Concern Disclosure Statement’s must be updated every 10 years.

EMERGENCY RESPONSE POLICY

Enclosed please find the Rhode Island Department of Environmental Management's policy statement regarding emergency response services. As part of your hazardous waste transporters permit you are required to acknowledge receipt of this policy statement. Please sign the form at the bottom and return the original copy to this office.

HAZARDOUS WASTE TRANSPORTER FEES AND REPORTS

As of January 1, 2003, the Department requires transporters to collect and submit monthly hazardous waste generation fees and reports for waste accepted for shipment from Rhode Island generators. These regulations are posted on the RI Secretary of State’s web site at the address shown below:

https://rules.sos.ri.gov/organizations/subchapter/250-140-10

Hazardous waste generation fees and reports can be submitted quarterly online at www.ri.gov/app/dem/manifests/.

CRIMINAL BACKGROUND CHECK

(BCI criminal record report)

In 1999, the paragraph shown below was added to Rhode Island General Law 23-19.1-10

… the applicant shall provide the director, as part of the standard permit application process, a notarized affidavit and BCI criminal record report from each and every state within which the applicant resides and/or conducts business. The notarized affidavits and BCI criminal records reports shall be provided for each and every person shown to have a beneficial interest in the business of the applicant or the permittee other than an equity interest or debt liability by the investigation thereof.

In compliance with this statute change, the Department must therefore require transporters seeking a permit to send in BCI criminal report(s) with their renewal or new applications. We are interpreting the statute to mean that the BCI criminal report(s) need to be submitted only for the state or province where the company/employee lives and/or is headquartered, and not every state where the company may transport. Also last year's form may be used if the affidavit accompanying it is current.

Also the report is required for key employees involved with oversight of the hazardous waste transportation operation and persons with a beneficial interest in the business of the applicant. Persons solely involved with physically handling the waste are not defined as key employees.

The statute uses the term BCI Criminal Record Report. This term is used by the Rhode Island Attorney General, while other states and provinces may use other terms to characterize them. Regardless of the name or terminology, a report is required from the local law enforcement agency, or local FBI where the key employees lives and works, attesting to the nature of his/her criminal record or the lack thereof. In consultation with our legal council, we have enclosed an Affidavit of Criminal Background Check. This document should be filled out and the background check must be attached to it. This eliminates the need for the background check to be on agency letterhead. If the person for whom the background check has been conducted has been convicted of any of the offenses described in the affidavit, an affidavit should be notarized and attached along with any explanation of the conditions of the offense.
