The next regulation consideration/guidance a subject raised to Mr. Patenaude attention. Could an operator with OIT status work alone on an "off" shift? Mr. Patenaude polled the Board as to if they should provide guidance. Mr. Patenaude thought was that is the operator's duty to pay attention and alert a supervisor if something should go wrong. Mr. Desrosiers would hope that a superintendent would want someone on the shift he sought to be capable. It was the Board's consensus that this matter was best handled at the facility level, thus giving the superintendent/management team wide latitude in staffing their facility.

The next item discussed were the use of last 4 digits for examinee identification of exam results. Other options were discussed.

In new business, exam results were reviewed.

Mr. Patenaude updated the Board on the Operator Boot Camp. The last class is Thursday, September 4, 2014 whereupon the campers will be giving half-hour presentations. The graduation will take place on September 12, 2014 at the Narragansett Water Pollution Control Association's trade show.
