APPLICABLE RHODE ISLAND GENERAL LAWS AND REGULATIONS

Applications for the importation and/or possession of native wild animals shall comply with all applicable laws, regulations, and other requirements or they shall not be approved. A selection of applicable laws, regulations, and prohibitions is provided below. Please refer to the specific documents for additional information.

SELECT PROHIBITIONS (See RULE 7-Rules and Regulations Governing Importation and Possession of Wild Animals for a complete listing)

1. Possession of Wild Carnivores: All exotic wild animals and hybrids of the order Carnivora for which there is no USDA conditionally licensed or unconditionally licensed rabies vaccine are expressly prohibited from importation or ownership without the issuance of a valid permit by the Rules and Regulations Governing the Importation and Possession of Wild Animals Department. Ownership is restricted to bona fide researchers, USDA licensed exhibitors authorized to possess animals of this order, and Association of Zoos and Aquariums (AZA) certified facilities.
2. Possession of Native Wildlife: All native wild animals are expressly prohibited from importation or ownership without the issuance of a valid permit by the Department. Ownership is restricted to the Department, the USFWS, AZA certified zoos and aquariums, research institutions and researchers involved in approved bona fide research or project as determined by the Director, and USDA licensed exhibitors unauthorized to possess animals of this order. See Appendix A for a listing of native species.
3. Possession of American Bullfrog: The importation or possession of bullfrogs (Lithobates catesbeianus) is expressly prohibited, except for flesh that is cooked or frozen and intended for human consumption.
